Overview

WINGS Phonics Decodables is designed for children, educators and guardians. The guided instruction in the books gives details about the letter sounds and the process of decoding them to read.

The series focus is on foundational skills for phonological awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary and comprehension. Guided instruction gives you the ability to make sure that young readers progress fluently as confident learners.

Packs

Books are currently segmented into sets (packs) so you can build your program around your students'/child's needs.

Short-vowel Decodables 1.0

Start with decodable consonants and the most common short-vowel sounds.

Short-vowel Decodables 1.1

These additional texts extend the skills promoted in the previous set with higher word counts and more non-decodable high-frequency words.

Consonant-digraph Decodables 2.0

Introduce the first digraph consonants.

Long-vowel Decodables 3.0

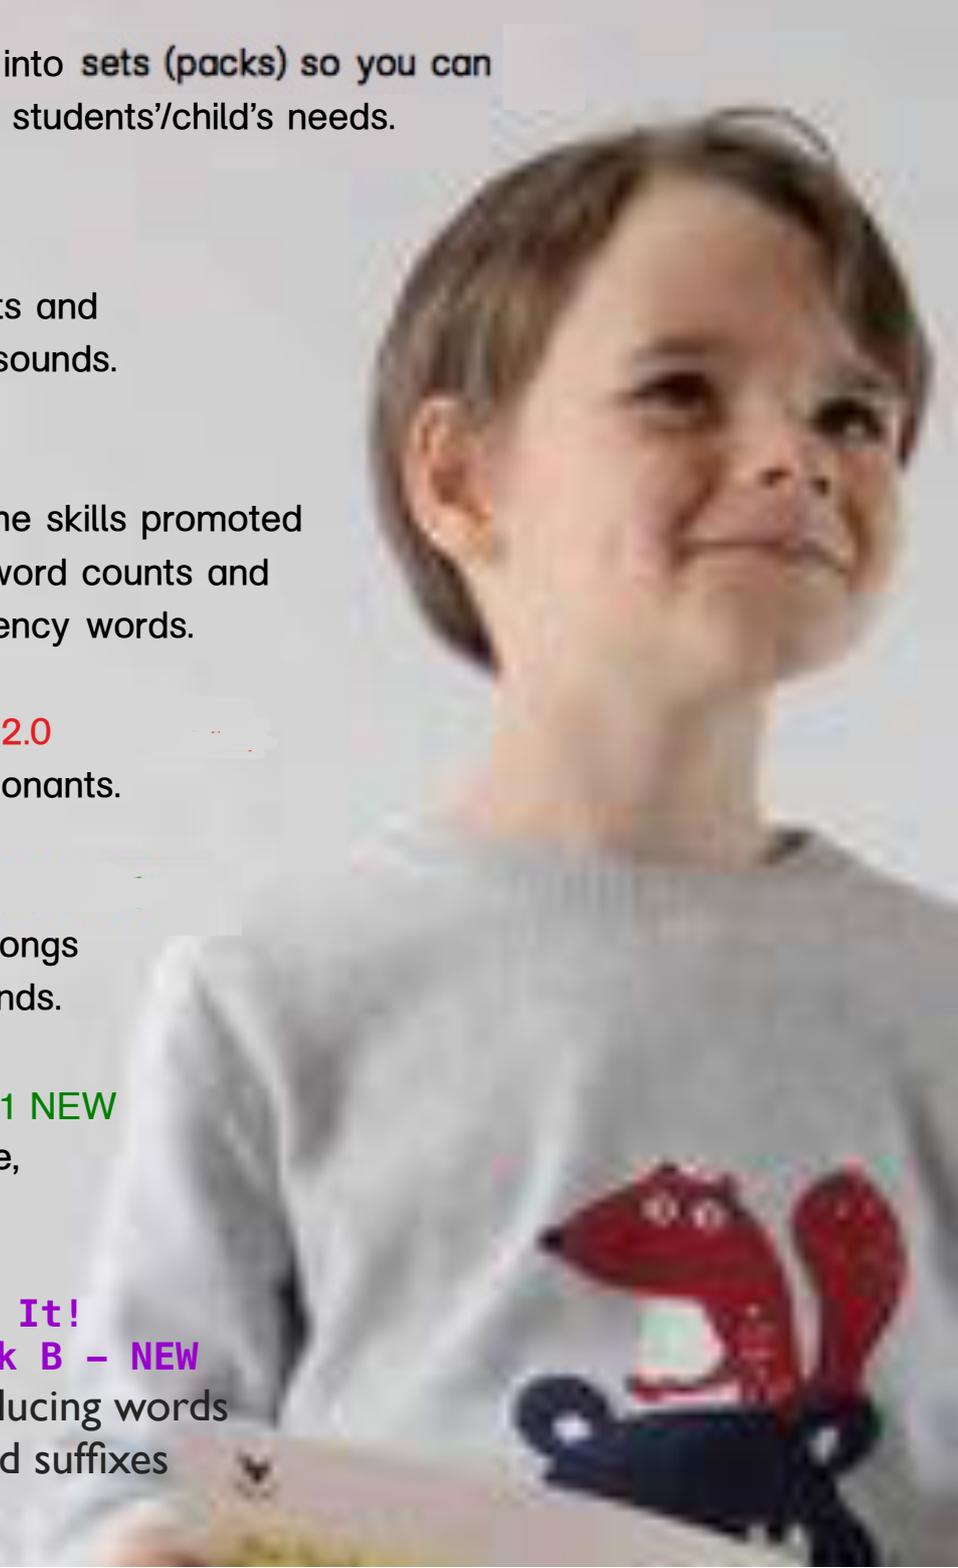

Continue with long-vowel diphthongs and r-controlled letters and sounds.

Long-vowel Decodables 4.0 - 4.1 NEW

Finish with r-controlled & silent e, long vowels and soft sounds.

Add It! Double It! Drop It! Decodables Pack A – Pack B – NEW

Build on the above by introducing words that change with prefixes and suffixes

Books

The stories have been produced by Australian authors and illustrators using humour and entertaining imagery that adds meaning to the simple texts.

The WINGS Phonics Decodable readers are supported by academic research, teachers and developmental language specialists.

Design

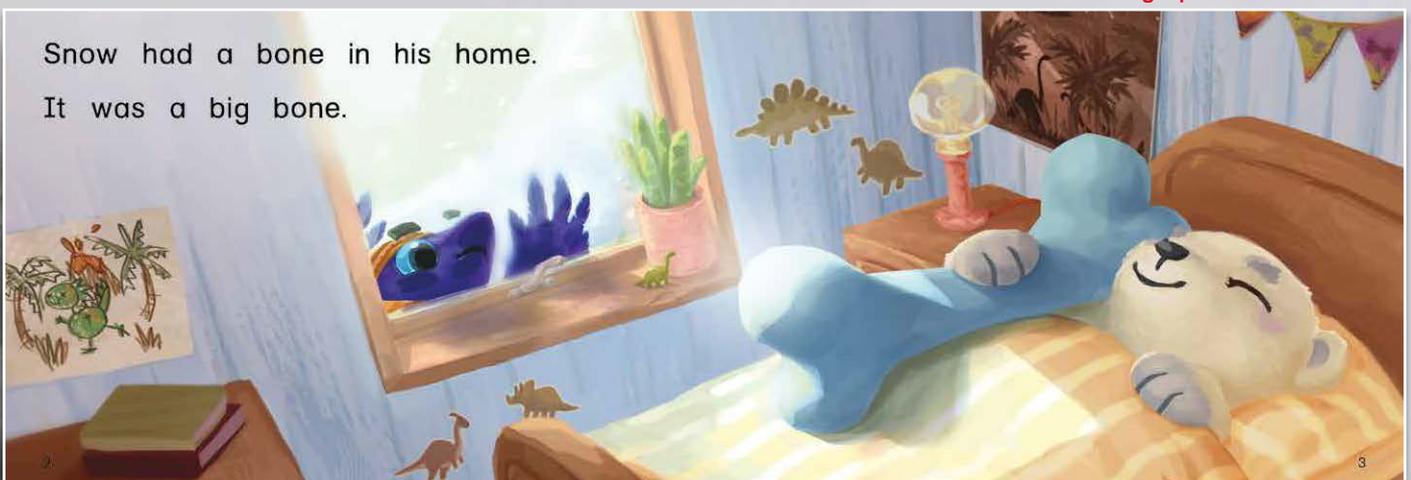

Simple, modern readers put decoding first.

Instruction

Each book comes with teaching support for educators and guardians to use. This clear in-book instruction, structures the learning into easy-to-follow stages.

This allows you to introduce the letter sounds, segmenting the sounds, decoding words and testing a student with comprehension and phonological awareness. This gets the most out of the readers at no additional cost.

Instruction

Before reading

Say, "This book will help you learn to read."
Read and discuss the title and back cover.

Letter sound check

Look at the new letters ai and ay. These letters make a long /a/ sound. The long /a/ sound is in the words 'wait' and 'play'.

Now check the revised letters in this book.
See the full sequence on the last page.

High-frequency words

Ask the child to read the high-frequency words. The child may write the words and find them in the book.

During reading

Ask the child to sound out letters in any unknown word in the book, for example:

wait sounds like /w/-/a/-/t/.

Reading fluency

- On the first reading, focus on the words.
- On the second reading, focus on the words and explore the illustrations.
- On the third reading, encourage fluency.

After reading

Comprehension

- What were the first two things painted?
- Who sailed on the ship?
- What was your favourite page? Why?

Phonological awareness

- Find words in the book with the long /a/ sound in the middle. (chain, pail, nails, paint, sail, wait)
- Say 'sail'. Now change the /s/ to /p/ at the beginning of the word. (pail)
- Find words in the book with the long /a/ sound at the end. (away, day, say, stay)
- Say 'day'. Now change the /d/ to /s/-/t/ at the beginning of the word. (stay)

Sequence

All books include this sequence of sounds, so you know with confidence where you are in the program and what is coming next. The back of each book also shows the set number as a quick reference for busy teachers or experienced language specialists adapting the books to a current program.

It is recommended that the letters and sounds are taught in this order.

High-frequency words

The books in the WINGS Phonics Decodables series cover 63 high-frequency words to expand the students' vocabulary and word knowledge.

High-frequency words are commonly seen words that a student will come across often, for example 'at', 'see' and 'was'. Other programs or reading schemes often require the student to memorise these words and recognise them on sight.

However, many high-frequency words can be decoded. This reduces the number of things to recall when reading.

- Some high-frequency words can be decoded early, for example. 'at' and 'in'.
- Some high-frequency words are temporarily not decodable, meaning that once their letters and sounds have been learned the words can be decoded, for example, 'see' and 'saw'.
- Some words are permanently not decodable, for example, 'was' and 'we'.

About

Era Phonics Decodables have been developed with leading academic research, teachers and literacy specialists. Each book includes instruction with tips on what to do before, during and after reading as well as comprehension and phonological awareness activities.

Keep children engaged as they learn letter-sound relationships to decode words, build vocabulary and increase their reading fluency with greater confidence.

Make Era Phonics Decodables part of your reading program.
